

introduction

It's time for volume #4 of the Lemonopolis Lesson Library! Part of being a responsible business owner is caring about your community. Read below for more information on the Sharing Goals lesson.

Now that your youth has set their spending and saving goals, they might consider giving a portion of their profit back to a local organization or charity. Businesses have a responsibility to give something back to the community that supports them. In this lesson, youth will be encouraged to think about donating a portion of their profit to a cause or organization that is important to them and their community.

lesson DISCUSSION

Here are some discussion topics and questions you can ask your youth to reinforce the Sharing Goals lesson.

Discussion:

- Help your youth to identify a cause that is important to them.
- You can give them suggestions of charities that you support but also encourage them to do some research and find a cause that means something to them.
- Help them understand that their goal is to make enough profit from their lemonade business to meet or exceed their Profit Goal.

Questions:

1. Why do you think giving back to the community is important?
2. What are some things you care about? What organizations are helping meet those needs?
3. What charity would you like to share with?
4. What are other ways you can help in the community?
5. Now that you have set your financial goals, what is your Profit Goal?
6. Do you think that this goal is achievable?
